Free document delivery and inter-library loan agreement between the University of Florence (Italy) and the University SS. Cyril and Methodius of Skopje (FYR Macedonia)

WHEREAS the University of Florence and the University SS. Cyril and Methodius of Skopje have started in 2005 a three-years project named "Development of Environmental and Resources Engineering Curriculum (DEREC)", funded by the European Commission within the TEMPUS Programme;

WHEREAS the DEREC project is introductory to the development of other joint research and educational activities that the two Universities intend to carry on in the near future;

WHEREAS the DEREC project includes among its activities the settlement of co-operative actions between the library systems at the two Universities

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties hereto hereby agree as follows:

With the purpose of pursuing the above declared goals and increasing the exchange of information and documents, the library systems of the University of Florence and of the University SS. Cyril and Methodius of Skopje will put in action the service of document delivery and inter-library loan in terms of mutual free exchange in the eligibility period of the project.

Postage costs will be on sender's own charge.

A precondition to the present document is that the library content owned by the undersigned Universities is mutually acknowledged. The Library catalogue of the University of Florence is available through the University Library Service at: <http://opac.unifi.it>. The Library catalogue of the SS. Cyril and Methodius of Skopje is available through the University Library Service at: <http://www.biblio.etf.ukim.edu.mk>.

In order to guarantee validity to the present agreement, the University Sts Cyril and Methodius commits to provide the University of Florence Library System with a file containing the list of owned documents (books and periodicals). The list should be in Latin characters and should be regularly updated.
